HERMAN FICKER went over the Rhine night before last, and took a little too much beer. Herman became weak in the knees and laid down in an alley, where he was discovered by a policeman and taken to the watch-house. He was fined $3 and costs by the Police Judge

A couple of lads named Richard Tuell and Thomas Donnelly, aged, respectively, fourteen years, were on trial at the Police Court yesterday upon a charge of breaking into the building of the Third District School and carrying off various articles, such as pencils, eards, chalk, etc. As this was their first offense, Judge Lowe let them off with an admonition.

A THREE-STORY brick dwelling, situated on Gamble street, between Western Row and John. and Liberty and Oliver streets, was struck by lightning about five o'clock, yesterday morning. Damages light. At about the same time the "White Horse Tavern," kept by George Doebler, on Western Row, opposite Oliver street, also received a slight touch of electric fluid. The inmates of both dwellings escaped without injury.

MARY JANE BUTLER (colored) stopped a little peddler girl on the street, day before yesterday, and under pretence of wanting to purchase several articles, succeeded in stealing a pair of socks, and a paper of pins. The little girl saw her conceal the stolen goods in her bosom, called officer Jones, and had her arrested. She was sent to the County Jail for the term of three months, by the Police Judge yesterday, to be kept at hard

THE Dayton firemen brought out three of their engines on Monday evening last, for a trial of skill, or rather of power. The height of their ambition, says the Empire, was the spire of the steeple of the St. Clair street Presbyterian Church, which they hoped to give a ducking. The Oregon and Independent engines sent each a stream to the top of the spire, which elicited thunders of applause from the admiring crowd. The Deluge company's engine could not be worked, but was to have her trial on Wednesday. We have not been informed how high the steeple is, but we are inclined to think, from the editor's challenge to "back the Dayton engines and their companies against those of any town in the State, aye, of any other State," that it must be a very, very high steeple, indeed.

Day before yesterday, about five o'clock, as a little news-boy named Andrew Snow was passing the Broadway Hotel, he discovered a pecket-book lying upon the pavement beside a chair, which he picked up and turning to a gentleman near at hand, asked him what he should do with it. The gentleman told him that it doubtless belonged to some one stopping at the hotel, and a lvised him to hand it over to the clerk, which he did. A gentleman named Edward Shippen, who is stopping at the Broadway, missed his pocketbook yesterday morning and called upon the clerk, Mr. Lutz, and made known the fact. He was very agreeably surprised to see Mr. L. un lock the office safe and present him with the lost treasure. The pocket book was then opened and the contents, one hundred dollars in bank bills, and checks and drafts to the amount of three thousand dollars-were safe. Mr. Shippen is an extensive lumber merchant of Warren, Penn., at which place he owns several large saw-mills, and we do not know that he could do a more commendable act than to call on little Andrew, at No. 112 Avery street, and make him a handsome present. Such honesty should not go unrewarded.

Counterfeit bills on the Hadley Falls Bank, Mass., of the denomination of ten dollars, are in circulation, which are well calculated to deceive. Two churches-one Congregational, the other Presbyterian-at Le Claire, Iowa, were fired by an incendiary a few nights since. They were totally destroyed. Various estimates have been lately made as to the present population of San Francisco. They vary between 60,000 and 20,000, and a few place the number as high as 100,000.

Two horses have recently died from the bite of rattlesnakes, near Wheatland, in the western part of Clinton county, Iowa. They

WHAT'S IN A NAME ?- A lawyer of Chicago, holds for collection a note forwarded from an eastern city, and bearing a name owned by three individuals there, whom he has socceeded in finding out, each of whom disowns that he ever heard of the note. The Buffalo papers state that the banks of that city have suffered over three thousand dollars by taking the forged one hundred dol-lar bills on the Brighton Bank. The notes, it is alleged, are from the genuine plate, but the signatures are forged. The last Iowa City papers received contain full details of the tornado, the most terrible that ever occurred in this State. Five persons were killed, six seriously injured, and a number slightly wounded, and property to the amount of over $12,000 destroyed. Two little boys, one eleven and the other eight years old, named Louis Lapoint and Joseph Prager, had an altercation on Satur-day in Walker street, New York, which re-sulted fatally to the latter. A blow from a stick on the side of the head fractured Prager's skull, producing compression of the brain and death. The war is no impediment to the tourists; on the contrary, it appears to have given an impetus to European travel. The Vanderbilt took out on Saturday, for Havre and South-

A WONDERFUL HEAD .-- We saw on Friday the head of a child of Edgar and Marinda Ball, of the town of Ments, in this county, which is a perfect monstrosity. The child is two and a half years of age, and apparently in good health. Its body and limbs are of the ordinary size of children at that age, and well formed; but the head is a wonder-being enormously enlarged, measuring 30 inches directly around it, and 32 inches over it from the front of the chin, and 281/2 inches measuring from the occiput around the forehead. The head is still growing, and the parents informed us that it had increased 5 inches in circumference in one year. The "general health," as we have stated is good; the child is bright and intelli-gent, but by no means philosophio, which the head would seem to indicate. It is free from those stupid, drowsy attacks experienced by persons suffering from disease of the brain. The child is the most perfect "insus nature," that we have ever seen .- Auburn Advertiser.

The Discoverers of 1858 and 1859.

We reproduce from La France Coloniale, the following interesting account of the ex-plorations now in progress throughout the

The world has been pretty well discovered Portions only of Africa, Australia, Indo-China, the Indian Archipolago, and the Polar Regions, remain for the enterprise of gov-eraments, learned societies, and men who re brave as well as curious.

Mile. Ida Pfeiffer, after travelling through Palestine, Northern Europe, and twice around the world, in a fifth journey attempted Madagascar. Queen Raravola received her kindly, then became suspicious, and finally ordered her to leave the island immediately. She was taken with other Europeans, it is supposed intentionally, to a low, swampy coast, where foreigners never escaped the fever. She took the fever, was made worse by her homeward voyage, and died on the 7th of October last, at the age of 61, in one of the suburbs of Vienna.

The Englishman, Coulthard, died a ter-Australia. A traveler, Babbage, found his body in a thicket, and a tin cup near by on which he had scratched a few lines with a nail, which made known the frightful sufforings that preceded his death. Coulthard set out with two other Englishmen, Scott and Brooks, who probably have registed.

Brooks, who probably have perished.
Adolph Schlagintweit has been mardered by a troop of rebels against the Chinese authorities, in a village of Thibet, not far from Yark-

and. The death of Dr. Edward Vogel, who had traveled over Lake Tsad, Bornn, Baguirmi and the country Wadai, west of Durfur, is almost a certainty. The rumor that he was murdered by the command of the Sultan of Madai, may have arisen from the probable fact that he was kept as a prisoner; a cause for either may be found in his imprudence in climbing to the peak of one of their sacred mountains,

The wife of Sir John Franklin is not yet re Last year she sort out the yacht Fex, in command of Capt. McClintock, to search for her husband. By the latest accounts, the Pox, taking the Beechey Island route, meant to sail into Fish River, passing to the east of King William's Land. William's Land.

For some months past, a new Arctic expedition has been in preparation in the United States. The worthlessness of the Northwest Passage, discovered by Capt. McClure five or six years ago, cools no Arctic ardor; the Open Polar Sea is now the great Arctic problem. The Geographical Society of St. Petersburg has sent a number of naturalists to Siberia, and a learned Fina, Dr. Nordenskield, of Hel-singfors, has pursued his observation as far as Spitzbergen.

On the American continent an officer of the English Navy, Capt. Palliser, has been so fortu-nate as to find a passage through the Rocky Mountains in British America.

In South America, the Frenchman, Dr. Plas-sard, who is settled in Cindad Bolivar, has undertaken an excursion into the interior of Venezuelan Guyana, and found gold to the South of lower Orinoco, toward the Yuruari. At Rio Janeiro, Mesers. Capanema, Lagos Gonzalvo Dinz are preparing for a second expedition into the interior of Brazil. They will have a military escort.

Dr. Schmards, the Austrian naturalist, is on his return from his voyage to Cape Sydney and New Zealand. So also have Dr. Tschudi and Dr. Friesach returned from their expeditions into the interior of South America. The Austrian corvette Carolina, on a visit to the harbors of South America, and the frigate Nevara, on a voyage round the world, were at the Phillipines when last heard from.

In the Southern Atlantic the English Cubins believes that he had, within the year, found a new group of islands on the track of Australian bound vessels. But the great magnetic center to which most discoverers instinctively turn, is still the inte rior of Africa. Those vast countries, which are represented in blank on our maps, have been attacked from all sides-east, west, north and south.

The renowned Dr. Livingstone is now making an excursion in those countries which he discovered during his long journey from St. Paul de Loands to Quitimane.

The English steamer, the Rainbow, sailed on the 6th January out of Bonny into the Gulf of Benin, to explore the country along the Ni ger. Ladislaus Magvar, of Theresiopol, in Hungary, who, after the Hungarian insurrec-tion, became a citizen of Brazil, has hit upon a rather singular, but very prudent way to pen etrate into the mysteries of inner Africa, with the greatest possible safety and advantage. He has just married the daughter of the black King of Bihe, in Upper Gainea. He has become commander in chief of the armies of his father-in-law, and uses his authority and his soldiers to become acquainted with the countries lying in his neighborhood.

Jules Braouerec, commander of the corvette Oise, is now exploring the wholly unknown country through which the Gaboon river runs. The Swedish discoverer, Anderson, travelled Ovampo, on the west coast of Africa south of Benguela, in the direction of the Cuenene river. On the east and south coast of Africa, English officers, Capt. Burton and Lieut. Speke, ound and measured, last summer, the great lake Uyiyi, between 3 deg. 30 min., and 8 deg. 40 min., south latitude—not to be confounded with lakes Nyassa and Ukerowe, so much talked of in late years. Until this discovery, there was ground for belief in a great centra sea in Africa, stretching from 12 deg. south latitude, to the equator; but this discovery is conclusive that the great bodies of water which have hitherto been discovered at widely distant points, are separate lakes.

The French missionary, Leo des Avanchers, is travelling through the country which lies to the eastward of the great sea. The German travelor, Athert Roscher, has gone in the same direction, having left Zanzibar with the hope of penetrating far into the interior. Pedro de Gamitto, Governor of the Portu-guese forts, Tete and Sona, on the Zambeze, is making preparations for new explorations in Central Africa, of which he has already given such interesting descriptions, in his book "Mu ata Cazembe. Massaga, the Sardinian missionary, is now

The Upper Nile is the object of untiring exploration. It would be strange if, before the end of this century, its whole course were not as well known as is now that of the Thames exploring the interior of Abysinuia; so also is the Seine or the Rhine. Other travelers, also, such as Capt. Magnan Baron Kratt, and Yussurf ben Gallabi, are ben on discovery, starting from Algiers or other northern points. Asia, too, is being explored by many travelers: but as yet we have but few details of their discoveries. Kriel has been sent by the Vienan Academy into Asiatic Turkey. Rey is exploring some hitherto neglected portions of Syria and Palestine. The brothers Schlaginweit are still continuing their researches in Central Asia. A Russian scientific expedition is engaged in the exploration of Chorasan, while a detachment of French troops in India China. in Indo-China is escenting a scientific corps through that country. Many other savans have received missions from the Ministry of Public Instruction, or from the Paris Museum. Beside this, the Catholic and Protestant missionaries are coming more and more to con-sider it a part of their duty to send home precise and comprehensive ethnographic and geographic intelligence of the countries through which they travel. cise and
